Profile & Motivation

IT Manager with over 6 years of experience in IT infrastructure, web development, SEO strategy, and digital transformation. I have hands-on experience in SaaS platforms and web-based application development, spanning both UI/UX design principles and backend development.

My motivation is rooted in the principle: "There are no limits to what can be built on the web." I am passionate about creating digital systems that serve businesses and individuals while contributing to environmental awareness, recycling, and sustainability by reducing paper-based processes.

I actively combine technical development with user behavior analysis and AI-supported optimization to create efficient and scalable digital solutions. Additionally, I collaborate with a skilled freelance team consisting of a UI/UX designer, frontend developer, and backend developer to manage and deliver projects efficiently, ensuring high technical quality and user experience standards.
